look into it

October 2010

A GRAND DAY OUT, Saturday 25th September, history was made in Skipsea

Well the day has finally arrived. The food has been prepared. The bunting is flying high in the wind. The balloons have been blown up and made into a magnificent display. The tables are laid. The chairs arranged. The band have shoved and shuffled to find their seats and are ready to play. The Seminar room is ready with displays of forthcoming events in Skipsea and the surrounding area. There are colourful stands from the History Group, the Over 50s group and the Photographic Group ready and waiting. A presentation of the whole process from wet muddy field to a wonderful building is running smoothly on the TV screen. The Village Hall committee are ready to showcase this fantastic venue BUT will the villagers of Skipsea come and see it ?

You do not disappoint. At 10.30, cars are lining up in the car park and the residents of Skipsea and beyond are streaming through the doors. The main hall, now christened the Windsor Hall in memory of the old village hall, is beginning to burst at the seams.

Mr. Mike McCann takes centre stage to introduce Councillor Jane Evison to do the honour of declaring Skipsea's New Village Hall open. Mr. McCann returned to the stage to thank everyone involved in bringing today about. Presentations of flowers were made to long-suffering spouses who had had to endure long absences while the committee brought the ideas and plans to fruition.

With the speeches concluded the Humberside Police Band continued to play wonderful music as voices of approval and wonder buzzed around the room. The committee served up a wonderful buffet and dispensed numerous cups of tea and coffee. Skipsea Village Hall had come alive.

The Windsor room ready for the party to begin

There will be a series of special events in the new Village Hall this winter, many of which are partly funded by Awards For All. We are lucky that three professional theatre productions are coming to Skipsea in Dec. & Jan. Skipsea residents will have priority – tickets will go on sale at Skipsea Post Office about a week before they go on general release. (* Keep an eye open for details in PO window.) In addition, Skipsea residents will be able to buy cut-price tickets by cutting out the relevant token which appears on this page, taking it to Skipsea PO to get £2.50 off any ticket bought for themselves or any member of the family, who must also be a Skipsea resident. [The Awards for All funding is specifically for Skipsea Village.]
